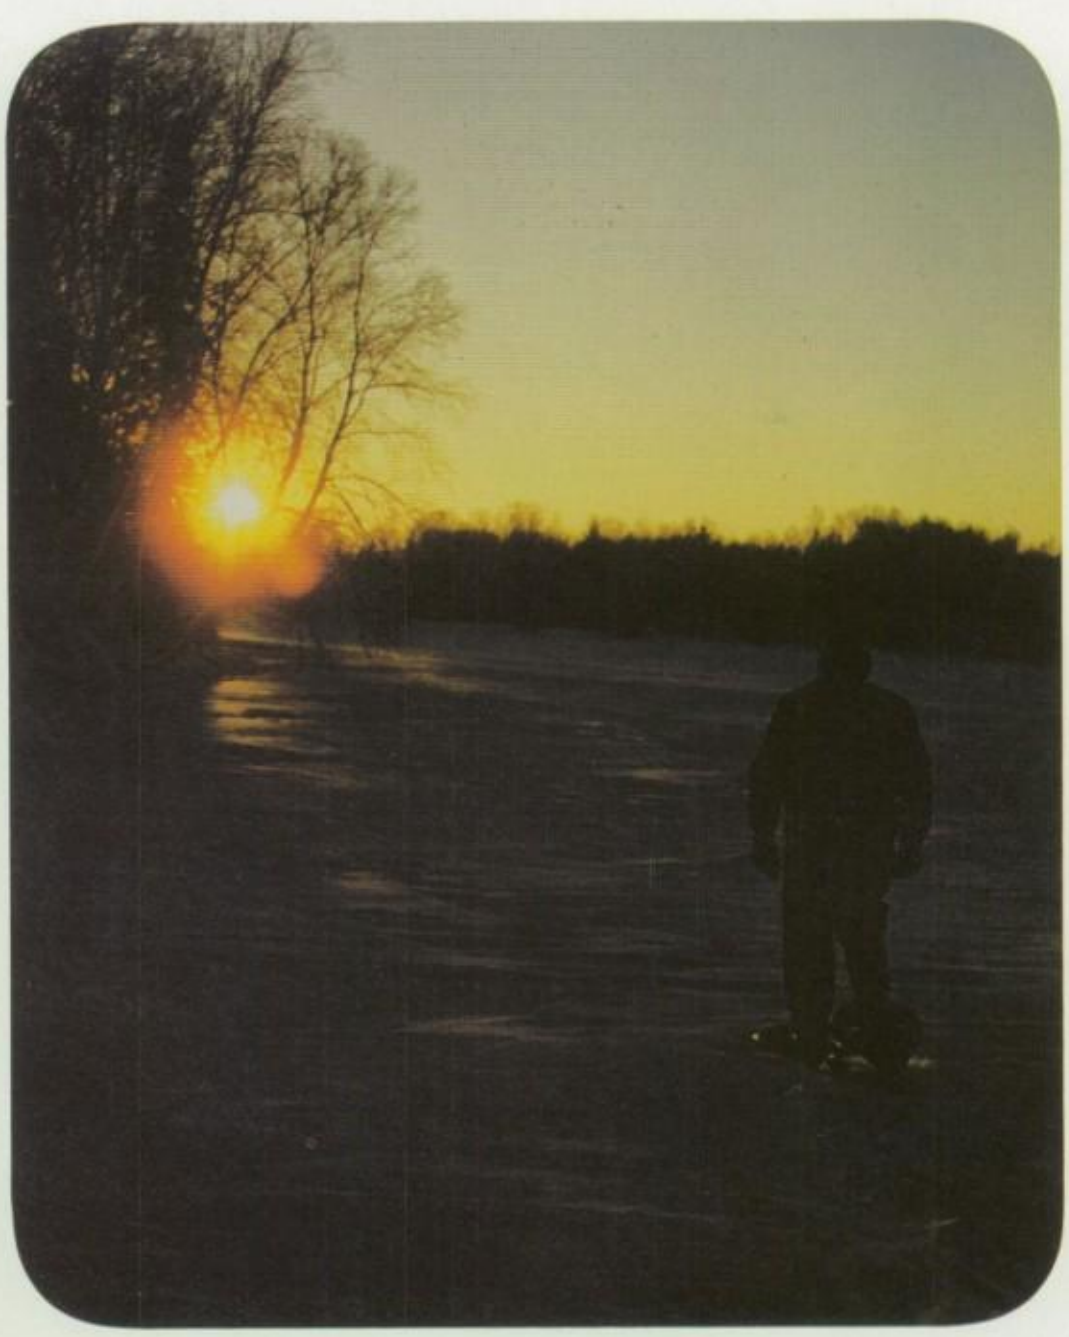
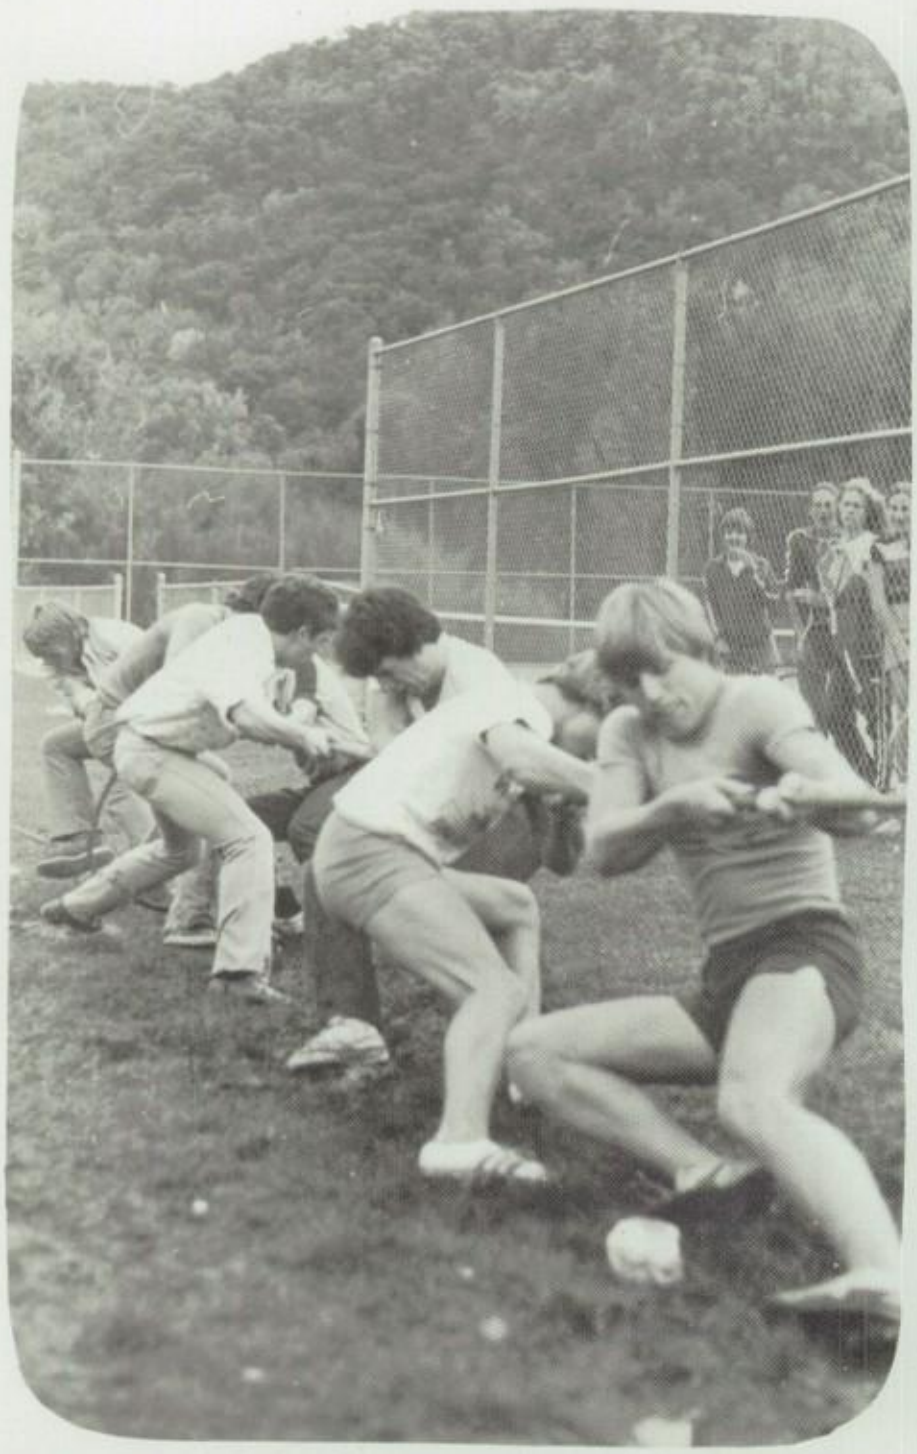
It seems like only yesterday that I went off to school for the first time; and by the time I graduate, I'll have gone off 2,160 times. I had my picture taken that first day and then every year since. Just look at me now!

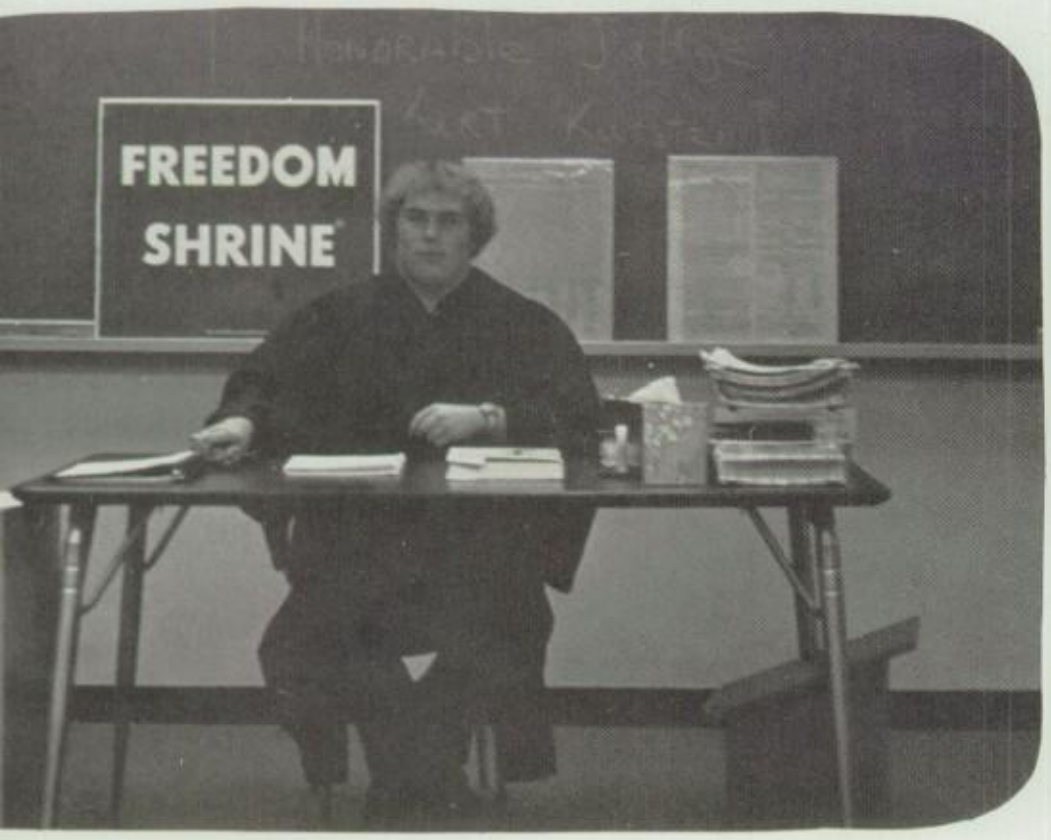
In some ways I haven't changed at all. I used to worry about falling off when I hung upside down on the monkey bars; now I worry about my grades falling. I used to want to be picked first for games at recess; now I wonder about what to do about Saturday night. It used to be a treat when someone had a birthday; now it's a treat if they forget to turn off the candy machine at lunch and I can get to the munchies.

Strange how time changes the outside of me, but inside I'm an awful lot like that kid going off to kindergarten.

There are good times because we're still "allowed" some of the privileges of children. As I sit in the concourse day after day, I enjoy watching people let themselves go, yelling "I'm an idiot" while parading around lunch tables in diapers for the United Way; but I don't enjoy ducking peas, milk cartons, oranges . . . .







FREEDOM
SHRINE

Right now, I'm trying to juggle all the facets of my life — working part-time, going across the river, sliding down Stockton Hill, representing Winona at State, spending time with my friends while making time for my family.

I often wonder about the future. What will I be — "richman, poorman, beggerman, thief; doctor, lawyer, policeman, chief?"

Involvement Makes Homecoming '78 A Success

"Student participation was good; no, it was fantastic!" commented Student Council President John O'Laughlin. Student Council worked hard to make Homecoming week a success, and students responded by getting involved.

The week started out with the coronation of King Todd Rasmussen and Queen Lynn Conway. Rollerskating, tug-of-war, cake eating, tricycle races, '50's dress-up and wearing hats added to the excitement.

The Second Annual Gong Show, emceed by Mr. Burnell Manley, provided entertainment for all. Both students and faculty participated with judging done by Miss Nancy "Harpo" Kelly and Mr. Dana "Babs" Babbitt.

The "Tiger Hunt" proved a success, as the Winhawks trounced the Albert Lea Tigers 34-21. Game victory brightened the atmosphere on Saturday night as students danced to music by Just Enuff and spent time "reminiscing" on Homecoming Week 1978.

Other candidates included Ed Hildebrandt, Mark Zachary, Mark Erdmanczyk, and Todd Rasmussen. WHS Guys & Dolls Beat The Odds

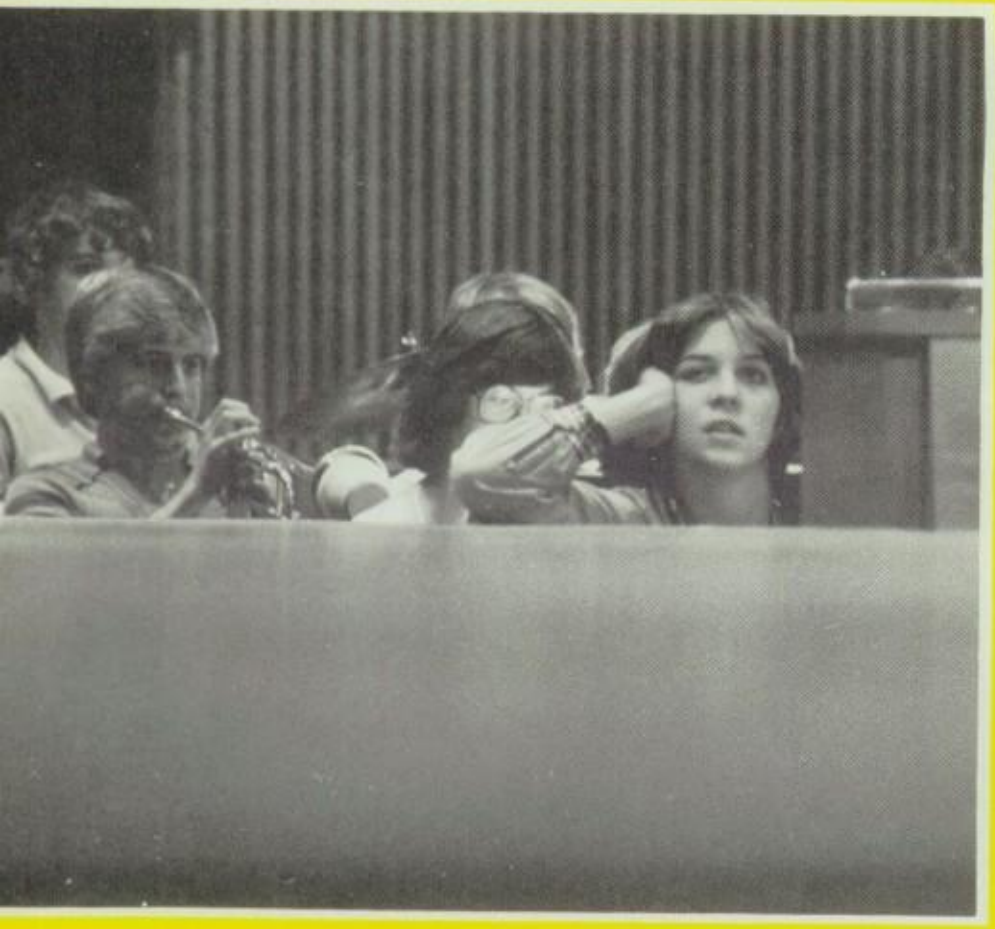
"All the world" may be a stage according to Shakespeare, but for the cast and crew of Guys and Dolls, the stage became all the world for awhile. Approximately 60 actors and actresses and 20 musicians successfully produced a show some people thought too difficult a challenge. Cast and crew, however, worked diligently to prove them wrong and make this year's musical something special. Written by Damon Runyon, the hit Broadway musical follows Sarah Brown's inability to attract sinners and save souls in her city mission until she meets gambler and sinner Sky Masterson. The fourteen-year engagement between crapshooter Nathan Detroit and Hot Box dancer Miss Adelaide added much to the show's variety as well as providing some of the funnier scenes in the production.

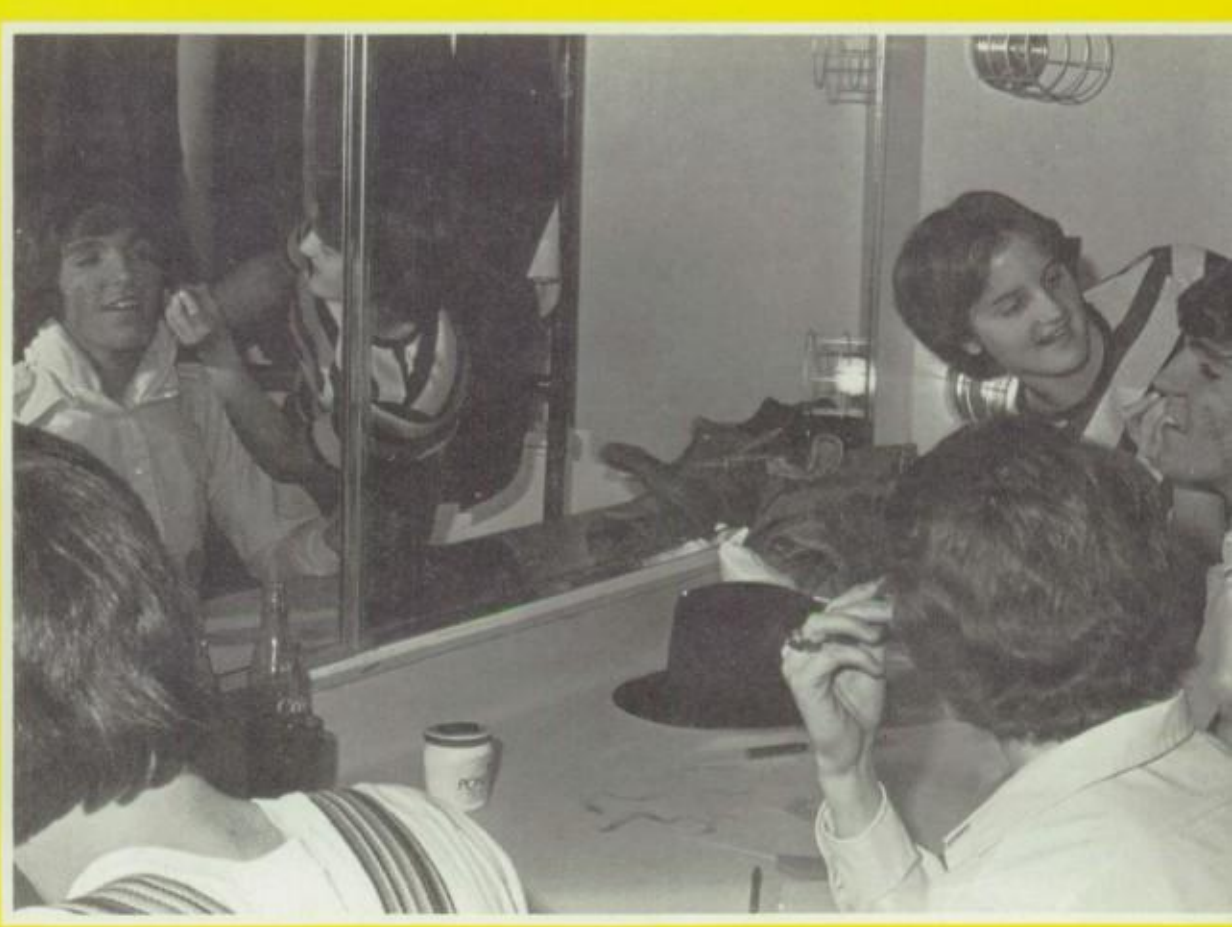
Director Meryl Nichols and Maestro George Trout guided their guys and dolls through what turned out to be a very short six weeks of rehearsal and preparation. As curtain time edged closer, time was just one of the factors raising the odds. Late arrival of make-up caused anxiety. Construction and etching of a unique set proceeded up to the last minute.

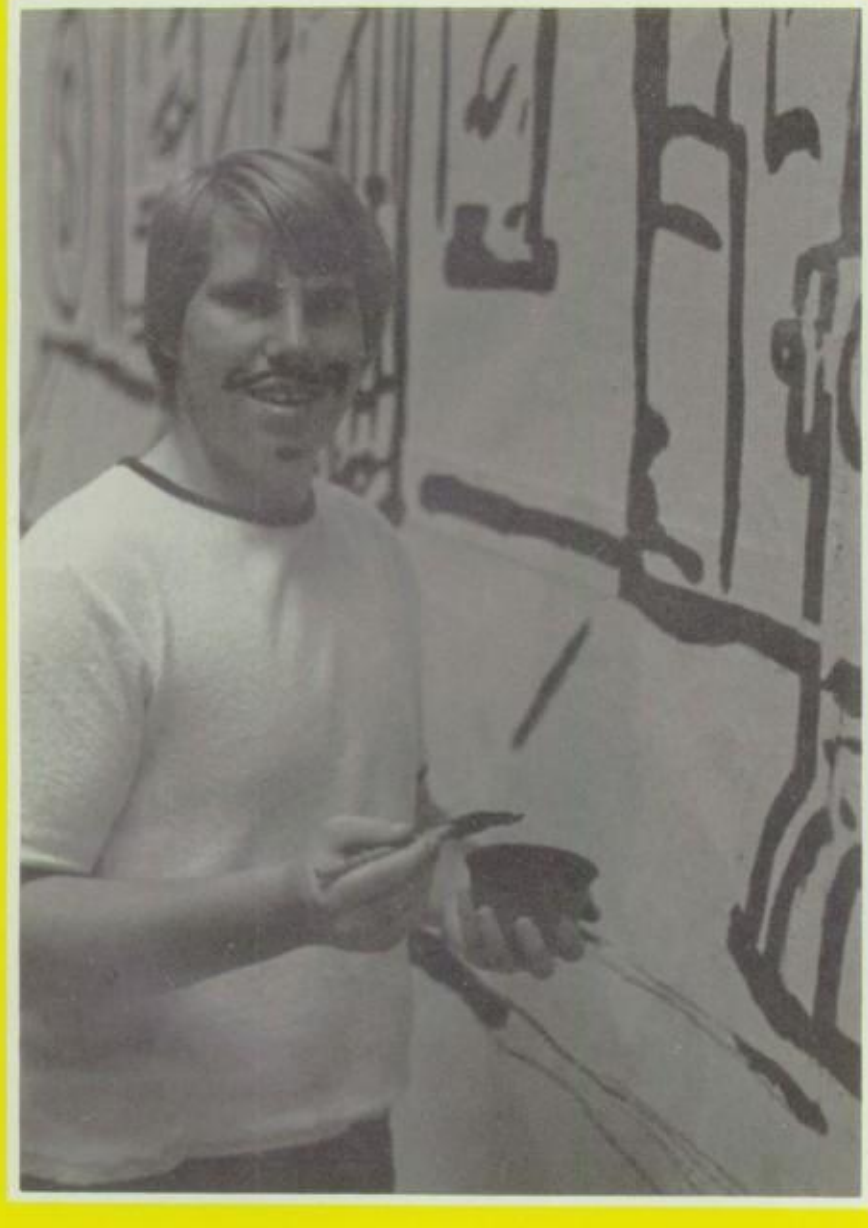
Despite all, they beat the odds and the musical proved to be a fiscal asset for the Music Department, a valuable learning experience for music students, and an entertaining break for WHS audiences. After appearing in her first musical, chorus member Renee Speltz expressed her feelings as follows: "I'll never forget being in the play. All the time and preparation seems endless, but by the closing night, you feel extremely pleased because the memories will last forever." Everyone went home a winner.



RIGHT: Steve Mendyk as Sky Masterson and Jane Holst as Sarah Brown may be eyeball to eyeball but they're definitely not seeing things eye to eye. ABOVE: After watching forty-three rehearsals, she could do a one-woman show. Kim Brown, unoffical understudy for every role in the show.

BELOW: Make-up isn't so bad when you have a doll to put it on. Wendy Barge gives Rick Lilla another scar. LEFT: "You can bet" the cast got their point across in the finale.





LEFT: Keith, the paint goes on the set. Keith Lockwood attempting to put the final, last-minute, finishing, absolutely the last touch-ups on the set. ABOVE: "I love you a bushel and a peck and a hug around your neck." Linda Untiet as Miss Adelaide trying to keep Gregg Haugen as Nathan Detroit from another one of his crap games.

One Act — Loveliest "Play" Of The Year

"Excellent characterization" . . . "strong feeling but controlled" . . . "extremely well-captured" . . . . These and other such complimentary critiques rewarded the efforts of the two-member cast and the directors of John Gruare's "The Loveliest Afternoon of the Year." Rehearsing daily, Carrie Kern and Gary Olson worked through the "simple" complexities of friendship and love involved in a somewhat "unusual" romance.

This year Winona hosted both the subregion and region contests and according to Carrie, "not having to travel was great for us; it made our performance much more comfortable." Finishing with a strong first in subregions, the play went on to take the runner-up position behind Apple Valley in regions.

Special Activities Break Up Winter Routine

Lack of publicity prior to Winter Sports Week caused a marked decrease in student involvement. However as Nan Richards put it, "I was glad that I partipated in it: it broke up the winter routine." After Student Council decided against sponsoring the week, W-club upheld tradition by arranging the activities. Momentum built as the week continued thank to activities including a slave auction, coronation, snow football and rollerskating. Disco dancing followed the traditional basketball game at week's end.

If Winter Sports Week caught students by surprise, FFA Week successfully concluded the activity plans of a well-established and prepared organization. Held to reward members for active service and participation, this year's March banquet honored Cindy Haedtke as Sweetheart and awarded Star Farmer honors to Brent Drenckhahn. Sue Bronk became the Star Agri-Businessman and Mary Welch received the BOAC award. According to Bernie Philipps, "It was very successful and we all learned a lot from it."

Politically Minded Lead The Way In '79

As always WHS students could choose from a wide range of activities which promoted leadership and/or provided political experience. Under the direction of Assistant Principal Ed Spencer and council president John O'Laughlin, Student Council strove to improve the school life of all students. Thanks, in part, to their efforts, the salad line became a permanent fixture this year and fruit could be bought at the snack bar. Although some issues like the smoking controversy couldn't be successfully settled, the council did successfully carry out both Homecoming and United Way duties besides selling buttons and T-shirts for Winona's "All American City" activities.

Early in the year political science seniors running a mock election managed to motivate 50% of the school population to the polls.

Later students participating in the Y.M.C.A.-sponsored Youth in Government program made their annual trip to the Minesota State Capitol. Once there they debated bills ranging the requirement of motorcycle helmets to legalization of wolf hunting.

Finally on one of the winter's coldest and snowiest day, odel Legislature participants met at Winona State to form a mock legislature. Directed by Mr. Gene Pelowski and promoted by the area Jaycees, students debated bills they had worked on for several weeks. Nancy Keller, Jon Varner, Ross Richards and Bruce Olson served on this year's Board of Directors.

"The Golden Groto" Enchants Audiences

The cast included kings and queens, frogs and dragons! As the music played swiftly and the lights dimmed slowly, the curtains drew open to reveal a fairy tale set (created under the direction of scenic designer and technical coordinator Mike Charron). Hardly the usual fare for WHS audiences, but children and adults alike found something to enchant them in the spring production of "The Golden Groto." Special attention went into promoting the play among the community's children. When the fifteen cast members donned costumes to visit grade schools, kids and cast enjoyed their brief journey into fantasy. The same response greeted regular performances and the special matinee much to the delight of directors Miss Nancy Kelly and Luke Merchlewitz, cast and crew.

Prom Adds A "Touch Of Class" To 1979

A bit of aprehension, the thrill of a special evening, dinner for two and dancing throughout the night . . . the magical ingredients for prom 1979 — a prom with a "touch of class." Thanks to the classy decor of the newly decorated concourse, everyone had prepared for an elegant affair. The "concert band" Hot Jam almost turned the mood around, but some flashy couples picked up on their style and with a bit of fun had things moving along in the right direction. There were plenty of ladies and gents but Mat Streater, Keith Lockwood, and Tom Buswell glimmered in the spotlight while doing the "snake" surrounded by enthusiastic spectators.

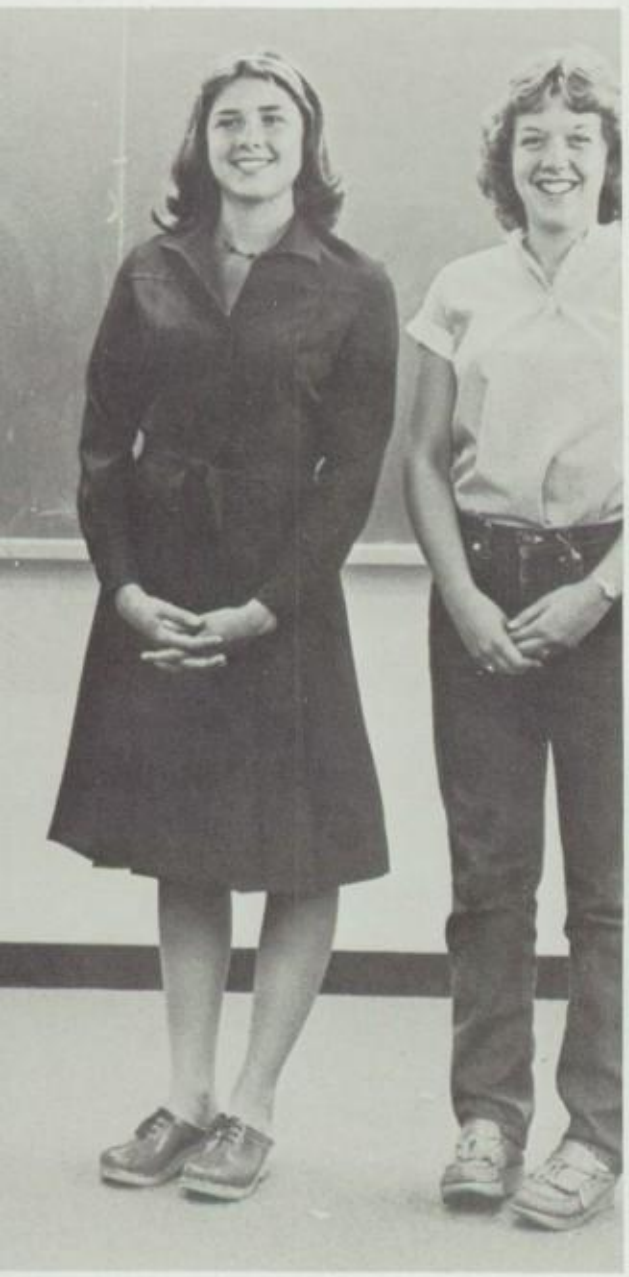
Competitors Meet Challenge



After weeks of practice sessions, WHS Quiz Bowl Team, Speech Team and Debators went into inter- and intra-state competition ready to meet the challenge. Unfortunately the '78-'79 Quiz Bowl Team came away with heartache as they lost their opening match to Weston High. The teams had tied at the end of regular play forcing a tiebreaker. Weston buzzed in the final correct answer to take the match by ten points. Team spirit, however, survived and although the season ended early, as Greg Marg put it, "Quiz Bowl was fun and we learned a lot from it, too."

No heartache for the '79 Speech Team. Senior Jane Holst served as student captain for a 33-member organization dedicated to upholding Winona's reputation and to individual improvement of some highly developed skills. The style of the season was set at the beginning when the Team took first at the Winona State Invitational. Besides meet honors, team members recalled the personal benefits, "Even and maybe because of competing against people, you get really close to others."

A good season for the Debators also meant the satisfaction of doing your personal best. According to Brad Peterson there were other satisfactions, "the ultimate psych out is carrying in five briefcases and watching your opponent cringe."

Language Clubs Sharing Cultures

AFS Club members to to exchange culture first-hand right at home at WHS while members of the Language Clubs studied the language, history, and culture in the classroom and then went out to sell, sell, SELL hoping to travel to spots where their second language was the language. This year two of the three clubs made it out of the country.

Six of the twenty French Club members accompanied Advisor Dwight Smith on a ten day Canadian trip showing off their expertise and meeting the challenge of missed trains to become seasoned travelers. The forty-four seniors with the highest points made the annual two-week trip to Mexico. All members got chances during the year to share their language experiences in activities like the Historical Society Christmas program.

Clubs Experience & Learn

The helpful ten-member Usher Squad volunteered their time to organizations including the Barber Shoppers, Winona Concert Association Concerts, Sweet Adalines and worked at this year's Big Nine Music Festival. All members recognized that their work contributed to smoothly running presentations and the comfort of audiences, but as a bonus members in Nancy Mastenbrook's opinion got "to see and hear some of the best musical performances of the year."

Students Active in Education paid their annual visits to elementary schools to get a taste of what it's like from the teacher's or aide's point of view and enjoyed themselves in activities like the Christmas caroling at the local homes for the elderly.

Ken Mishark summed up the year for Science Club members saying, "Even though our membership was small, this has been a very successful year — for learning." The year's highlight found club members taking projects to the regional and international Science Fair events. More members took the regularly scheduled field trips to places like Winona State and the local observatory.

Radiograph Reaches For A Different Look

Starting with the solid background cover, '79 Radiograph staffers searched for a simpler form to highlight the basics of good style. They wanted this book to stand out from the last several years and taylored it to the theme — A Place in Time 1979. This meant trying to place WHS students in the community and society as well as in the daily school routine and allowed them to acknowledge our area heritage at the same time.

As always staffers began eager to make those changes that would improve their product over all previous books. By the time final deadlines crept up on them, they realized the enormity of that challenge and struggled to complete whatever tasks they could. Even two-year veteran Lisa McKenna admitted, "You have to start thinking and working immediately or you just never catch up." Even after the initial workshop quarter where staffers learned all the aspects of putting pages together, a lot of time was spent making those skills solid during the second quarter production period.

Singing Their Own Special Style In '79

Choir sang their way through a full and exciting year in '79 starting off with their participation in the fall play. Money from this venture helped finance their trip to 44tMacomb, Illinois the following spring. They followed up this early presentation with their annual seasonal concerts. Other fund raisers included work on the special Vikings vs. Green Bay Packers Basketball Game pplayed in the WHS gym.

Once again choir members enjoyed the experienced direction of Mr. Meryl Nichols, but had the special honor of hosting the Big Nine Music Festival, which focused lots of attention on the music program at WHS.

Singing And Swinging To WHS Music

If you like singing for pleasure, then you probably joined Girls' Chorus or spent some time listening to the music they made. Besides presenting their annual concerts as traditionally expected, the two groups (again two classes this year) concentrated on light pop songs and traveled to local grade schools to perform during National Music Week. Year's end found another chorus tradition upheld, however, as Director Jonelle Moore hosted the annual picnic.

Of all the music organizations at WHS, Swing Choir is one of the newest. In '79 it featured twenty talented voices, ten pairs of singing enthusiasts. Members collaborated on the dances that occupanied the jazz/pop songs and were presented both within the school and for non-profit organizations in the community. Two-year member Luke Merchlewitz confided that although the singers experienced some disappointments, learning to adjust brought its own rewards and plenty of appreciative audiences.

Music Makers Excell

Orchestra Director George Trout called the '78-'79 group the best sounding one that he had worked with at WHS and complimented them on having set new performance standards of excellence. WHS audiences had plenty of opportunity to enjoy this highly rated group of musicians since they performed five regular concerts during the year including the annual "standing room only" Christmas Concert with the choir. Outside audiences also had a chance to enjoy and rate our orchestra not only at the Big Nine Music Festival, where they received excellent critiques, but also on the road in places like Western Illinois University, where members Participated in a two-day concert/clinic. This trip proved to be a year's highlight for many members and Steve Mendyk received a four year scholarship. Members chosen for Big Nine Select Orchestra included: Carol Aldinger, Heidi Guenther, Kim Kirk, Kathy Lehmeier, Nancy Keller, Carole Keller, Tim Cox, Ben Schwab, Deb Wantock, Ann Rendahl, Pat Spear, Heather McQueen, Santha Fusillo, Dan Munson. Carole Keller and Tim Cox represented WHS at All-State Orchestra.

Missteps Ease On Down The WSH Road

Kicks, pinwheels, and lined formations — the '78-'79 Winona High Missteps perfected these and other new techniques under the direction of student choreographers Kim Van Kirk and Carolyn Rohrer and the supervision of advisor Mrs. Mia Martin.

The dedicated 30-member team practiced daily during the summer to prepare for the school year, and performed in the Steamboat Days parade. Besides entertaining at the traditional football games and basketball games, they appeared for the first time at a swim meet. The highlight of the year, though, had to be traveling to sub-regional, regional, and state basketball tournaments to perform in half-time drills. Senior member Linda Untiet recalled feeling "proud to belong to the Winona High drill team and honored to represent the school and city along with the basketball team." Mrs. Martin echoed this attitude, adding that she thought Winona's Missteps one of the classiest drill teams present.

When the girls weren't performing to such popular tunes as "Greased Lightning" or "Ease on Down the Road," they held fund raisers that enabled them to buy the new black and orange gloves. The Missteps themselves bought a new uniform of T-shirts and shorts to give a new look to the year's routines while maintaining a style that had become a tradition at WSHS.

The Mat Maids came on strong in '79 with the addition of many new members. They contributed greatly to the wrestling season spirit by painting signs, cheering enthusiastically, and handing out oranges after matches. Asked to join the school-sponsored Pep Club, the girls decided to remain independent in '79.

Spirited sophomores joined determined seniors to revive Pep Club spirit under the enthusiastic direction of Advisor Mia Martin. The girls kept busy throughout tbe year painting "fire-up" signs and Herkies as many of the athletic teams went into regional play and some beyond. According to Rose Goetting, Club members want to helpp people get "rowdie" so all that good spirit reached the team.

Rowdie spirit could well have described those fencers who sometimes looked like they were out for a kill as they practiced in WHS halls. Some boasted of having exchanged two left feet for a regular matched pair.

No words can describe the outstanding sea- that the '78 girls' tennis team headed by Coach Cathy Solem achieved. They went undefeated in their regular season, winning all 14 matches 5-0, making their overall record 70-0! Again, the team took Big Nine honors for the second year in a row. "I wish it would happen all over again," declared Julie Stanton about the season. The team as a whole advanced to Sub-regionals and took the title of Sub-region 1AA Champs. The girls then advanced to Regionals, where they again defeated their opponents. As the team advanced to State, Lisa Bublitz and Sue Heise went individually. Once there, the team won the first and second rounds of tournament play but came up short in the final round, losing 3-2 to Edina East. Lisa, on the other hand, advanced to the finals where she defeated Anne LeMieux for the State Singles Championship. Once home, senior Shelley Anderson summed up the whole year in just two words, "Utterly FANTASTIC!"

Not only did the girls turn in an outstanding performance on the courts this year; the boys weren't far behind. Guided by veteran Head Coach J. Paul Richards, the Hawks took a positive attitude into the '79 season and compiled an incredible 7-0 record. According to senior Chris Renk, "It was a pleasant surprise to go undefeated with the young team we had." The highlight of the season came for the Hawks at the Sub-regional meet held in Rochester, when four netters put their game together to advance to Regional competition. Senior standout Chris Renk took first place honors at the Subregion along with teammate Scott Laurie who placed fourth. The youthful doubles team of Ed Sobiesk and Dave Kohner also advanced to Regions.

Winhawks Win Big

"You have to believe in yourself and your teammates to be a winner," Senior Ed Hildebrandt explained about this year's '78-'79 football team, which completed one of the finest conference records (5-1) in Winhawk history.

The Hawks started off on a bad note, losing their first three games, and scoring only one touchdown. There seemed to be no hope for the determined Winhawks, when suddenly under the leadership of Head Coach Bob Urness, and tri-captains Ed Hildebrandt, Tom Hoffman, and Brad Hitt, the Hawks turned it around and played like true Big Nine champs. Averaging 25 points or better a game, the players established the number one offense in the conference for most of the season.

After suffering a heartbreaking defeat against John Marshall, the Hawks went without a loss for the rest of the season, and won their last game against Mankato West, conference champs of the Northern Division.

Winona's football team ended its season with five all-conference players: Ed Hildebrandt, Brad Hitt, Tom Hoffman, Rick Lilla, and Mike Whetstone; and three honorable mentions: Aaron Buck, Paul Eckert, and Mark Erdmanczyk.

The B-squad finished the year with a record of 5-3 under the direction of Coach Dana Babbitt and Assistant Coaches Fred Loewen and Jim Pappas.

CC Statistics Deceive

"It was a year when being good just wasn't good enough," according to veteran runner Todd Rasmussen when asked about this year's Boys' Cross Country season. The record could also be called deceiving. Deceiving because the runners performed much better than the 5-4 record suggests. The boys earned fifth place in the Big Nine while the girls came very close to similar positions with a 6-5 overall ranking and a 4-5 record in the Big Nine. Both Coach Jim Flim and Coach Lynne Gronert led a group of diligent workers, which had many individual successes (twenty-eight boys, for example, lettered in 1978).

Winona had the largest number of runners in the Big Nine with 44, and so for the first time an assistant coach, Bill Schmidt, joined the staff.

The fourteen girls placed sixth out of twelve schools at the regional meet and the boys placed eighth out of sixteen. For the girls, Joel Jasnoch received the Most Valuable Runner Award, Sharon Speltz became the Most Improved Runner, Barb Fick took the Super Sport Award, and Kelly Morken earned the Silver Arrow Award. The boys' Most Valuable Runner Award went to Pete Guidinger; Todd Rasmussen and Scott Wagnild took Most Improved Runners; Cheu Vang became Rookie of the Year; and Dave Hanson received the Sophomore Award.

Coach Jim Flim summed up the 1978 Cross Country season as being one where "qualities such as loyalty, comradship, and desire to uphold a winning tradition" stood out more impressively than final scores. Senior co-captains Jon Varner and Todd Rasmussen along with Barb Fick and Dana Jasnoch certainly led a group of runners, who would agree.

V.B. Girls Serve Up A Spirited Season

Lacking height and with only three returning lettermen, the Hawks, led by tri-captains Kathy Peshon, Lori Pelowski, and Carolyn Cerney needed to work harder than ever before. "Although our win/loss record (6-8), may not show it, I feel we had a successful season in terms of individual improvements and performances." "Kathy Peshon was named to the Big Nine All-Conference Team, an honor which is only bestowed upon twelve athletes in the conference," stated Coach Debbie Millie.

One of their biggest wins came over Austin. In all of Coach Millie's eight years as WSH Volleyball coach, this proved to be the first Winhawk victory over the Packers. The Hawks also placed second at the LaCrosse Logan Invitational, defeating Logan and Gale-Ettrick-Trempealeau, but losing the championship match to West Salem. "So close but yet so far," that's how Lori Pelowski felt about this year's sub-regionals. Winona, hosting the games, failed to make it to the finals when they fell to the Red Wing Wingers in the final match game.

Overall, it turned out to be a very exciting season. Lori Pelowski received the Leadership Award. Tammy Buggs took the Most Improved Player, and the Spirit Award went to Cayle Cady.

Assistant Coach Pam Wisnuewski led the B-squad to a thrilling 6-5 season; and the C-squad, coached by Ruth Weispfenning, concluded their season with a 3-8 record.

Young Team Grows With Experience

The 1978-79 Girls' Gymnastics team, under the direction of Head Coach Cathy Solem and Assistant Coach Bev Wisted, compiled a 3-9 season record. Despite the disappointing final record, Coach Solem felt, "The season was successful with hardworking individuals and an overall close-knit team."

Having only six upperclassmen, the sophomore-dominated team advanced three gymnasts — seniors Patsy Smith and Chris Sheehan and sophomore Wendy White-to regional competition.

For the first time, ninth grade girls were bussed to Senior HIgh to participate along with the varsity gymnasts. Those six girls completed the B-squad roster.

Captain Patsy Smith turned in outstanding performances throughout the season, placing high in every meet and earning her the honors of Most Valuable Gymnast and Team Leader. Senior Valerie Gunner served this year's Most Improved Gymnast.

S-P-I-R-I-T Revives

"Cheerleaders," declared advisor Mrs. Mia Martin, "are the foundation of school spirit . . . . " This year's cheerleaders put out an extra effort to revive spirit at WHS. And the students and fans responded. Many athletes would agree with Jeff Larson, member of the state basketball tournament team, that "because Winona fans were yelling their hearts out, I never felt alone on the court."

Of course, the girls found time to organize pepfests with strange and unusual skits and contests. After one revealing pep assembly, faculty and even some coaches went looking for the words to the school song so they wouldn't be caught improvising. According to senior cheerleader, Cindy Gunderson, "The year was great because a lot more people took part in the cheering along with us."

Six Hawks Go To Regions

The Winona Winhawk wrestlers got off on a slow start in the '79 season. Bothered by injuries, the Hawks, nevertheless, took a never-say-die attitude and fought back throughout the season to a 7-5 overall record. Directed by new coaches, Bill Schmidt and Jim Pappas, the wrestlers reached their peak in time for subregionals where Jim Fox, Mike Kane, Tim Ferguson, Joel Speltz, and Rick Lilla all advanced to regional competition. There two Winona matmen placed second which qualified them for State (Steve Speltz making his first and Tim Ferguson his third trip). Tim Ferguson lost on criteria to Scott Leighton, an Austin competitor he'd beaten in both an earlier duel meet and in subregional finals. Leighton then went on to place third in the state. Steve Speltz lost in the regional finals to Apple Valley's Mike Langlois, who placed runner-up to Steve Carr in the state tournament. Rick Lilla placed third in regions while Jim Fox and Joel Speltz both finished fourth. At season's end, Steve Speltz was honored as Most Valuable Wrestler; Jim Fox was named Most Improved Wrestler; and Rick Lilla received the Inspirational Wrestler Award. Steve Speltz, Tim Ferguson, and Dave Biggerstaff served as tri-captains.

Cagers About-Face

The 1979 basketball season proved especially exciting for players and fans alike. Each squad made deceptively slow starts and then picked up pace to make strong showings at season's end. Both turned in winning records. Both came back after Christmas break to upset their foes.

Coach Bruce Reeck thought that "the success of our team will be determined by a patient offense and stiff defense." This proved true as the Hawks handed a 61-57 loss to the Northfield Raiders in their first game of the region tournament. Next the Burnsville Braves challenged the Hawks but a defensive battle highlighted by cool free-throw shooting won the game for Winona 34-28. From there the Winhawks went on to win the region title and advance to the state tournament after beating Apple Valley. Making their first appearance at State in eighteen years, the Hawks bounced back after an initial loss to beat Mounds View in the consolations. The Hawks finished 15-10 overall. Both Mike Whetstone and Mark Zachary earned All-conference honors for the second year while Earl McCleerey earned Honorable Mention.

The girl cagers, coached by second-year mentor Dave Heise, finished their season with an 11-9 record. Some of their most exciting games ended with one-point margins but their most triumphant match went into double overtime where they pulled off a 54-51 victory over state-ranked Austin. The Packers suffered their first loss ever in the Big Nine at the hands of the Winhawks. At one time during the season, the Hawks were ranked tenth in the state. Lisa Bublitz and Julie Stanton earned All-conference honors; Carolyn Cerney and Barb Fick earned Honorable Mention.

WHS Tankers Stroke To Successful Seasons

With the starting gun, WHS swimmers set individual and team goals that would once more uphold our school's winning reputation. Some set records that will challenge those that come after for years. John Fox swam a 59.6 in the 100 Breaststroke to become the first in Minnesota to go under the minute mark. The boys' team as a whole did an outstanding job of improving times and breaking records as Co-captains John Fox and Mark Gunderson led the team to 8 wins and only 2 losses (both losses at the hands of Mayo). Besides setting the new State record in the 100 Breaststroke, Fox placed second in the 200 Individual Medley and swam on the 200 Medley Relay which placed 5th. Other members of that Relay included Julius Gernes, Mark Gunderson, and Randy Florin. Julius Gernes also placed 7th at State in the 100 Backstroke, Mark Gunderson 9th in the 100 Fly and Jeff Zwonitzer received 12 place honors in Diving.

The girls likewise turned in an exceptional season accomplishing something that hadn't been done in eight years — they defeated May (89-83). The recorded 11 wins and only 2 losses in Big Nine competition. Co-captains Carrie Kern andLynn Rukavina led a team of great depth and strength whose accomplishments ought to challenge WHS swimmers in the years ahead.

Individuals Highlight '79

Outstanding individual talents overshadowed the lack of depth in both track teams this year. The girls compiled an impressive 7-1 conference record, losing only to Owatonna, the Big Nine champs. "We've come a long way since the Outstate Meet where we failed to score a single point," commented Coach Jim Weidemann after the Hawk victory in Subregions. After coming second at Regionals, the team sent two juniors to State — Lisa Bublitz in the 100, 200, 400 meter and Karen Decker in the high jump.

The boys, captained by Todd Rasmussen and Tom Lehnertz, finished 5-4 in the Big Nine. Individual highlights included Tom Lehnertz in the 330 low hurdles and 300 meter hurdles, Pete Guidinger in the 2 mile indoor, and Kevin Henderson in discus.

Despite Weather Golfer's Sun Shines

'79 golfers turned in an outstanding seasonal record despite the weather being one of their toughest opponents. The sport had a very late start due to the wet weather at the beginning and throughout the regular season of play and many practices had to be held indoors. Led by Co-captains Bob Peplinski and Kevin Roney, the Winhawks finished with ten wins, four losses and one tie. Their strongest competition came at the Conference Meet where they finished second to Austin, which went on to win State. Both Dan Trainor and Bob Peplinski competed in the Regional Meet. Dan shot a 74 to end up in a 5th place tie enabling him to participate at State, where he finished 12th.

Records Lag Spirit

Despite much talent and determination, the varsity baseball team, coached by Jerry Raddatz, ended the season with a 6-12 record. The Hawks compiled a five game winning streak midway through the season. Effective pitching and consistent defense played vital roles in the Hawk victories. One run decided the outcome of many games, in which the Hawks came up on the short end. The tournaments proved the same as Rochester John Marshall eliminated the Hawks from Subregional play by a 4-3 count. All-conference honors went to Doug Block and Brad Hitt; Rick Lilla and Mike Whetstone earned Honorable Mention.

The girls' softball team had a troublesome season, ending with a 2-14 record. A young squad this year though gave fans hope that experience gained this year would build for a winning season next year. An 8-7 victory over LaCresent, which earned a berth in the State Tournament, highlighted the season. Individual honors went to Sbannon Linahan, Renee Munson, and Lori Pelowski who all shared the batting title this year.

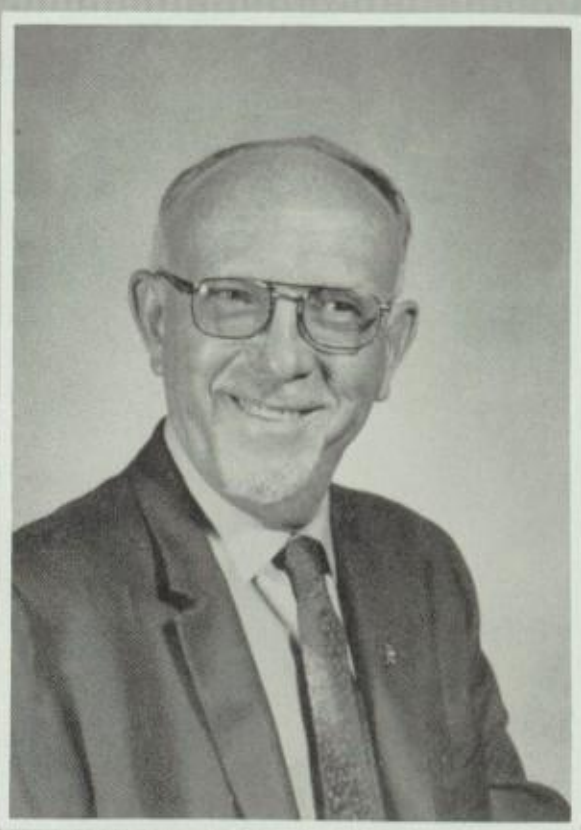
In Memorium



After years, Robert Clayton won't be teaching another English class. He will be remembered for what he gave colleagues and students alike — a model of integrity and dedication.

Mr. Clayton was always concerned with what we were thinking and what we were learning. - Nancy Keller

Mr. Clayton was one of the best . . . he held a true love for literature and a zeal for scholarship and learning. He tried to instill this in all of us, and for this, we truly loved and respected him. - Kurt Karsten

Mr. Clayton showed more empathy for his students than any other teacher I've had . . . I wanted so much to earn his respect and felt so proud when I thought I had. He was so caring . . . . -Diane Alampi

Friend and colleague in the English department, Robert Libera presents a scholarship, donated by five of Mr. Clayton's former students, to Diane Alampi. The scholarship recognized Diane's high achievement in English classes and her plans to pursue an English major in college.

Senior class officers — Treasurer Mark Erdmanczyk, President Mat Streater, and Vice-president Nancy Keller (Secretary Nan Richards not pictured) led the class of 1978 through combat this year. Some of the harder-fought battles occurred in Political Science and Advanced Composition. Although there were the easily won skirmishes too, most seniors took spring leaves claiming battle fatigue despite the AWOL pink slips.

The arm goes up . . . the left hip goes out . . . and the whole body moves to the beat of the music. Disco dancing was the thing to do in '79, and lots of seniors really caught the "fever." Many like Scott Leisen spent their weekends at the disco, "a place where you can be yourself and LET GO!" You didn't even have to dance to enjoy it; for Tom Buswell and others the main attraction was watching the dancers.

SEVENTEENING

It's never been easy
seventeening.
Reading Hemingway
searching for meaning performing on an unset stage
Yearning for all the love,
respect and approval
you can get.
Feeling guilty.
Feeling love . . .
and hate
both at the same time.
Feeling guilty for things undone trying to connect with just someone,
searching for that
man of your dreams,
groping for meaning
in a world so corrupt.
Trying to find words with crystal meaning
Never been easy
Seventeening
Tammy Fischer

Head full of new ideas every week
Pushing out feelers
and pulling them in.
Trying to leave off
where others began Standing tall
when your heart is leaning.
Never been easy,
Seventeening.

Traditionally sophomores and juniors "look up" to seniors - and those seniors expect it. After all, 13 years of school should count for something. Seniors are even surprised sometimes by how much they know. Seniors make the most of their position occasionally pulling rank but mostly "giving" advice on everything from how to do a research paper "properly" to what classes to take to where the best parties will be on Saturday night.

Farewell Class Of '79

Senior Music Award winners set the SPIRIT for the close of the 1978-79 school year and graduation. Formal farewells came from elected senior speakers:

Mark Erdmanczyk — "The Final Days"

Kurt Karsten — "Those Were the Days My Friends"

John O'Laughlin — "Our Unforgetable Friendships"

Lynn Rukavina — "The Adventure of Life"

Nancy,
well what can I say? We've known each other for years & you've truly been there for me & I've tried to be always there for you & friend. You've always had a lot of fun & included me & we've had a lot of fun times.
You're a unique person, always remember that. You're really a friend, unselfishly & helpful & sharing. I'll never forget you, for you are a one in 10 billion friend. & I guess like we stick together. Keep those learning in your heart.

Nancy,
To a person who
I have known since 7th grade. You seem to be really smart that way.
I'm so glad that I can to me. So glad friend, Dixie Brown

Nancy,
It's really been nice knowing you. I hope you get everything you want out of life after you graduate!
Friends,

Nancy
I consider you a
dear friend and we have a lot of fun discussing Galactica "1980". Sunshine
Laerie Forsen

Nancy,
This will be our
last year here.
I wish you luck in the future, whatever it holds

Nancy,
You a sweet kid.
I wish you all the luck in the world.
Your friend always.
